- painting with creativity vs copying the photo
- story making
- abstraction and looseness
- different ways of seeing and painting

“I try to meet every student at their level whether beginner or advanced. My focus is on building confidence with short and varied instructor demos and fun ways to help your understanding of the concepts we will cover. You will learn by trying, experimenting, making boo boos, adjusting things, understanding what’s going right (or not so right!) all the while getting valuable group and one-on-one coaching. This kind of learning format is really beneficial when you are looking to learn or create new habits.”

All mediums and levels welcome.
